

Mobile App Review Writer, Paid Internship

Description

Position Summary:

The person in this position will be responsible for seeking out and discovering new mobile applications for iOS, Android, Windows Phone, and Meego operating systems. The intern will search the web and device marketplaces to find intriguing and useful applications. They will then test the applications and write a short review of any applications that are valuable to our readers.

The applicant for this role must be proficient in both research and writing.

Our continued success could transform this role into a paid full-time position.

Position Duties and Responsibilities:

- ⤴ Research and discover applications from the major mobile operating systems (one a day per operating system)
- ⤴ Rate and decide which apps are worthy of our reader's attention
- ⤴ Write a concise, yet compelling review of that app's features, benefits, and possible uses

Qualifications

Functional and Technical Skills:

- ⤴ Demonstrate strong verbal and written communication skills
- ⤴ Strong work ethic, self-motivated, and ability to function independently
- ⤴ Ability to think from mobile app consumer's perspective to determine the value of a particular application
- ⤴ Ability to analyze new applications and see their potential
- ⤴ Proficient in grammar and spelling

Experience and Education:

- ⤴ The Intern must be currently enrolled in college.
- ⤴ Technical writing skills preferred
- ⤴ Passion for writing, and technology a must

How to Apply:

- ⤴ Send the following (in the body of the email, no attachments will be opened) via email:
 - Resume
 - References
 - Write two mock app reviews (title and 2 paragraphs each) for any two apps you personally enjoy using
 - Links to any published works if applicable

Schedule:

- ⤴ Home-based

Compensation:

- ⤴ Pay per post. Minimum number of posts per month required.
- ⤴ Visible byline on all your posts with your name (and a link to a website of your choice, if you want).