

Mobile How To/Tutorial Writer, Paid Internship

Description

Position Summary:

The person in this position will be responsible for working with the editor-in-chief to come up with new mobile how to's and tutorials for the readers. The intern will then work on those how to's and present readers with a concise, easy to understand way of completing whatever the task at hand may be. Person will also be responsible for creating videos to accompany the how to's and sending them in to be edited and uploaded by the editor-in-chief.

The applicant for this role must be proficient in both research, writing, and basic videography. Our continued success could transform this role into a paid full-time position.

Position Duties and Responsibilities:

- ⤴ Research consumer needs to formulate new how to's.
- ⤴ Transform the task into multiple, easy to understand steps.
- ⤴ Create a professional-looking video to accompany the steps and submit it all to the editor-in-chief to be edited and uploaded to the site.

Qualifications

Functional and Technical Skills:

- ⤴ Demonstrate strong verbal and written communication skills
- ⤴ Strong work ethic, self-motivated, and ability to function independently
- ⤴ Ability to think from different mobile users' perspectives to come up with how to's.
- ⤴ Proficient in grammar and spelling
- ⤴ Proficient in video camera use

Experience and Education:

- ⤴ The Intern must be currently enrolled in college.
- ⤴ Technical writing skills preferred
- ⤴ Passion for writing, and technology a must

How to Apply:

- ⤴ Send the following (in the body of the email, no attachments will be opened) via email:
 - Resume
 - References
 - Write two mock how to's reviews (title, small introductory paragraph, and steps to complete the how to) for any two how to's you think readers would need.
